Eco-Cycle & Blue Star Recyclers Recycling Program
Recycling Electronics, Empowering People

As of Nov. 15, 2016, electronics and plastic appliances are recycled on-site through a partnership between Eco-Cycle and Blue Star Recyclers that employs people with autism and other disabilities. Trained as recycling technicians, these workers disassemble electronics at the CHaRM facility in our newly retrofitted warehouse. Learn more at www.ecocycle.org/charm.

Because electronics are being disassembled on-site, we can now guarantee chain of custody and data security on-site. The CHaRM is in progress to be certified to the e-Steward standard, the strictest environmental standard in the industry.

CHaRM FAQs:
Why are there fees? Recycling fees cover the costs of disassembling, collecting, storing, and marketing materials. Our $3 facility fee allows us to accept many materials with no additional recycling fee. Bicyclists and all-electric vehicles with CHaRM materials are not charged a facility fee. Visitors may purchase a Frequent CHaRMer Card and receive 5 visits for $10.

Where do the materials go? Visit www.ecocycle.org for a list of local recycling partners and what happens to CHaRM items.

About Eco-Cycle
Eco-Cycle is a nonprofit, social enterprise that uses revenues from business activities, including operating the Boulder County Recycling Center and the CHaRM, to sustain Zero Waste education, outreach, and advocacy programs that benefit Boulder County. Learn more at www.ecocycle.org/value
